

2017 EASTERN HARDWOOD CONFERENCE

EXPLORING HARDWOOD POTENTIAL AND INNOVATION

Join us to examine the potential of hardwood management to improve our local forests, communities and economy.

Various factors such as our changing climate, carbon markets, forest restoration objectives and the need for economic diversification point to our natural Acadian hardwood forests as a wise ecological and economic investment.

This conference is for anybody that wants to learn more about our Nova Scotia forests and how they can profit from proper sustainable management.
